Using a variety of pointer-words, Lord यम yama continues to sharply focus Nachiketa's attention to the Nature of आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I”.

This entire Universe – this समस्त सूक्ष्म-स्थूल प्रपञ्चम् samasta sūkṣma-sthūla prapañcam – constituted of subtle and gross beings and objects, with various forms and names, ever-changing in nature, this entire Universe, being as it is, is only a manifestation of an infinite variety of effects and their immediate causes. And, the Ultimate Changeless cause of this entire Universe is That सत्य स्वरूप-ज्ञान स्वरूप-अनन्त स्वरूप ब्रह्मन् satya svarūp-jñāna svarūp-anant svarūp brahman – That ब्रह्मन् brahman is indeed The आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I” – in every self including oneself – That is the central Message here.

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

Lord यम yama repeats this Message again and again, though a variety of simple-looking word pointers. In the next verse, Lord यम yama says:

यतश्च उदेति सूर्यः, अस्तं यत्र च गच्छति ।
yataśca udeti sūryaḥ, astam yatra ca gacchati ।
तं देवाः सर्वे अर्पिताः, तद् नान्त्येति कश्चन ।
taṁ devāḥ sarve arpitāḥ, tadu nāntyeti kaścana । एतत् चै तत् ॥ 4 - 9
etat vai tat ॥

यतः च उदेति सूर्यः, अस्तं यत्र च गच्छति
yataḥ ca udeti sūryaḥ, astam yatra ca gacchati यतः च yataḥ ca means यस्मात् च yasmāt ca – Also that from which

सूर्यः उदेति sūryaḥ udeti – the sun rises
सूर्यः अस्तं यत्र च गच्छति sūryaḥ astam yatra ca gacchati – and also, into which, the sun sets. Therefore,
यतश्च उदेति सूर्यः yataśca udeti sūryaḥ, अस्तं यत्र च गच्छति astam yatra ca gacchati – That from which the Sun rises and into which the Sun sets. What is that? We know that sun-rise and sun-set are only appearances. Certainly, the Upanishad also knows that – Then, what is That from which the Sun rises and into which the Sun sets?

In the Upanishad here, the word सूर्य sūrya– The Sun is उपलक्षण upalakṣaṇa for विराट् virāt – which means, सूर्य sūrya– The Sun stands for विराट् virāt – the entire स्थूलप्रपञ्च sthūla prapañca – the gross physical universe, the universe of ever changing effects and their immediate causes. That which is the immediate cause for this entire स्थूलप्रपञ्च sthūla prapañca – the विराट् virāt is the entire सूक्ष्म प्रपञ्च sūkṣma prapañca, the हिरण्यगर्भ hiraṇyagarbha – the Totality of this Universe in its subtle form. Therefore, यतश्च उदेति सूर्यः yataśca udeti sūryaḥ, अस्तं यत्र च गच्छति astam yatra ca gacchati means from which हिरण्यगर्भ hiraṇyagarbha, this विराट् virāt – this entire physical universe has arisen, and also, into which हिरण्यगर्भ hiraṇyagarbha this विराट् virāt – this entire physical universe, ultimately resolves itself and disappears.

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

The cause for चिराद् virāt – the स्थूल प्रपञ्च sthūla prapañca – the entire physical Universe is हिरण्यगर्भ सूक्ष्म प्रपञ्च hiraṇyagarbha sūkṣma prapañca – the totality of this universe in its subtle form .

As indicated in the अनुप्रवेश श्रुति anupraveśa śruti in Taittiriya Upanishad, the cause for हिरण्यगर्भ hiraṇyagarbha itself is ब्रह्मन् brahman – The सत्य स्वरूप satya svarūp, ज्ञान स्वरूप jñāna svarūp, अनन्त स्वरूप ब्रह्मन् ananta svarūp brahman, which makes That ब्रह्मन् brahman as सत्यं satyaṁ – The Absolute Reality, and both हिरण्यगर्भ hiraṇyagarbha and चिराद् virāt as only मिथ्या mithyā – a transient reality of appearances.

Every मिथ्या mithyā – transient reality, being only an effect arising from an immediate cause, resolves itself, and disappears into The Ultimate cause, namely सत्यं satyaṁ – The ONE Absolute Reality which is never subject to change, and That सत्यं satyaṁ is एतत् वै तत् etat vai tat – The आत्मा. That is what is indicated by the Upanishad statement

यतश्च उदेति सूर्यः, अस्तं यत्र च गच्छति ।

yataśca udeti sūryaḥ, astam yatra ca gacchati ।

Further, about That हिरण्यगर्भ hiraṇya garbha, the Upanishad says:

तं देवाः सर्वे अर्पिताः taṁ devāḥ sarve arpitāḥ

तं taṁ refers to हिरण्यगर्भ hiraṇya garbha – the सूक्ष्म प्रपञ्चं sūkṣma prapañcaṁ – the totality of this Universe in its subtle form

देवाः devaah – all our organs of perception and action and their Presiding Deities – the particular cosmic powers by which they all function as they do, they are called देवाः devaah – Divine Functionaries. The ear, the skin (means the sense of touch), the eyes, the tongue (means the sense of taste) and the nose (means the sense of smell) are our organs of perception, and their presiding deities are respectively, आकाश देवता ākāśa devatā, वायु देवता vāyu devatā, सूर्य देवता sūrya devatā, वरुण देवता varuṇa devatā and अश्विनि देवता aśvini devatā. Similarly, our organs of action are speech, hands, legs, anus and the genitals and their presiding deities are अग्नि देवता agni devatā, इन्द्र देवता indra devatā, विष्णु देवता viṣṇu devatā, मृत्यु देवता mṛtyu devatā and प्रजापति देवता prajāpati devatā.

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

The Upanishad says:

सर्वे देवाः तं अर्पिताः sarve devāḥ taṁ arpitāḥ – all these देवताs devatās – all these invisible cosmic powers are अर्पिताः arpitāḥ – they are inseparably fixed to, which means that they are integral parts of That हिरण्यगर्भ hiraṇyagarbha, just as the spokes of a wheel are inseparably fixed to its axle. All the देवताs devatās derive their respective powers to function as they do, only from That हिरण्यगर्भ hiraṇya garbha. Therefore, at the individual level – at the व्यष्टि vyasṭi level, each इन्द्रिय indriya is a कारण kāraṇa – each organ of perception or action is an instrument. At the total level – at the समष्टि samaṣṭi level – all इन्द्रियाs indriyas of all individuals resolve themselves into their respective देवताs devatās. For example, सूर्य देवता sūrya devatā is the presiding deity for the eyes of all beings. So is the case with respect to every other देवता devatā. And, all these देवताs devatās derive their powers only from The ONE all inclusive हिरण्यगर्भ hiraṇya garbha; and That हिरण्यगर्भ hiraṇya garbha itself – being an effect – resolves itself into its cause namely ब्रह्मन् brahman.

In summary, everything in this universe, subtle or gross, is only ब्रह्मन् brahman. The हिरण्यगर्भ hiraṇya garbha – The सूक्ष्म प्रपञ्च sūkṣma prapañca – is ब्रह्मन् brahman. The विराट् virāṭ – The स्थूल प्रपञ्च sūkṣma prapañca is ब्रह्मन् brahman. Everything is indeed ब्रह्मन् brahman.

तत् उ tat u - certainly, clearly, everything in this universe is indeed ब्रह्मन् brahman
न कश्चन अत्येति na kaścana atyeti – Nothing in this creation can even transcend That ब्रह्मन् brahman. Everything is in ब्रह्मन् brahman only. That ब्रह्मन् brahman is सर्वात्मकं ब्रह्म sarvātmakam brahma. That ब्रह्मन् brahman is the सत्ता sattā – That which gives existence for anything. Nothing stands apart from ब्रह्मन् brahman. No object can exist, giving up its existence itself. Therefore, no object can transcend ब्रह्मन् brahman

एतत् वै तत् etat vai tat – That ब्रह्मन् brahman is indeed The आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I” that you wanted to know about, says Lord यम yama to Nachiketa. Further,

यदेव इह, तत् अमुत्र यत् अमुत्र तदनु इह ।

yadeva iha, tat amutra yat amutra tadanu iha |

मृत्योः, स मृत्युं आप्नोति य इह, नाना इव पश्यति ॥

4 - 10

mṛtyoḥ, sa mṛtyuṁ āpnoti ya iha, nānā iva paśyati ||

Please see the language here:

“What is indeed here, that is there. What is indeed there, that is here. The person who sees as though there is a difference, goes from death to death.”

That is how Upanishad communicates Knowledge. Let us now try to understand what exactly the Upanishad points out here:

यत् एव इह, तत् (एव) अमुत्र yat eva iha, tat (eva) amutra

यत् एव yat eva means यत् शुद्ध चैतन्यं एव yat śuddha caitanyaṁ eva - Which Pure Consciousness – The आत्मवस्तु ātmavastu, The आत्मा ātmā – The Self I, is इह – here, in this जीव उपाधि jīva upādhi – in this body-vehicle, in the physical body of a person

तत् tat (एव eva) – That same Pure Consciousness is अमुत्र amutra – there, in ईश्वर उपाधि īśvara upādhi namely सत् चित् अनन्त स्वरूप ब्रह्मन् sat cit ananta svarūp brahman

Which Pure Consciousness – The आत्मवस्तु ātmavastu - The आत्मा ātmā The Self “I” – is in this जीव उपाधि jīva upādhi in the physical body of a person, That same Pure Consciousness is in ईश्वर उपाधि īśvara upādhi in the all-inclusive manifestation of ब्रह्मन् brahman as the आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I” of परमेश्वर parameśvar – The Lord of this entire creation.

अनु anu - Likewise,

यत् अमुत्र yat amutra, तत् इह tat iha

यत् अमुत्र yat amutra – Which Pure Consciousness, Which आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I” is there in ईश्वर उपाधि īśvara upādhi, namely ब्रह्मन् brahman

तत् इह tat iha – That Same Pure Consciousness, That आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I” is here in this जीव उपाधि jīva upādhi – in the body vehicle of a person, which means In both the जीव उपाधि jīva upādhi and ईश्वर उपाधि īśvara upādhi, The आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I” is identical.

Hindu Temple of Ottawa-Carleton Inc.
4835 Bank Street, Ottawa, Ontario K1X 1G6

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

That means, there is no difference between a जीव jīva – an individual person and परमेश्वर parameśvar in terms of आत्मा ātmā The Self “I”, शुद्ध चैतन्यं śuddha caitanyaṁ – Pure Consciousness, सत्यं satyaṁ – Absolute Reality. But there is a difference in terms of उपाधि upādhi – one’s vehicle of manifestations.

The nature of जीव उपाधि jīva upādhi – the nature of the body-vehicle of an individual जीव jīva – an ordinary person – is a combination of कार्य उपाधि kārya upādhi and कारण उपाधि kāraṇa upādhi.

The कार्य उपाधि kārya upādhi is one’s सूक्ष्म स्थूल शरीर sūkṣma sthūla śarīra – one’s physical body made up of subtle and gross components, together with all its peculiar संसार धर्म saṁsāra dharmas – worldly characteristics, such as notions of doership and enjoyership and the consequent ever changing experiences of सुख sukha, दुःख duḥkha etc. and, the कारण उपाधि kāraṇa upādhi is one’s Self-ignorance – ignorance of आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I” – (अविद्या avidyā).

Because of one’s Self-ignorance, the जीव jīva – the individual person mistakes one’s body vehicle and all its experiences, as The आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I”. The truth is that the आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I” is NOT one’s body-vehicle and its experiences, which are the results of one’s own past and present कर्म karmas – all of which being totally transient and ever subject to change

On the other hand, the nature of ईश्वर उपाधि īśvar upādhi, is सत् स्वरूप sat svarūp, चित् स्वरूप cit svarūp, अनन्त स्वरूपं anant svarūpaṁ, ब्रह्म स्वरूपं brahma svarūpaṁ, which means सर्वज्ञत्वं sarvajñatvaṁ – Omniscience, Totality of All Knowledge

सर्व शक्तिमत्त्वं sarva śaktimatvaṁ – Limitless Power

सर्व व्यापकत्वं sarva vyāpakatvaṁ – All-pervasiveness

सर्व कारणत्वं sarva kāraṇatvaṁ – The Ultimate cause for everything

पूर्णत्वं pūrṇatvaṁ – All inclusiveness

ब्रह्म स्वरूपं brahma svarūpaṁ – The ONE Absolute Reality of all existence, never subject to change, which is precisely the nature of आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I”.

If such आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I”, is in both जीव उपाधि jīva upādhi and ईश्वर उपाधि īśvar upādhi, then, why is it that I, as a जीव jīva, do not have all the attributes of ईश्वर īśvara as indicated above? That is because of all the limitations of my उपाधि upādhi – my body-vehicle. All my limitations belong only to my body-vehicle, and not to The आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I” in my body vehicle.

Hindu Temple of Ottawa-Carleton Inc.
4835 Bank Street, Ottawa, Ontario K1X 1G6

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

This, we must understand clearly. All of us are identical in terms of आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I”, and this fact is never subject to change. At the same time, all of us are different from each other, in terms of our उपाधि upādhi – body vehicles which are transient in nature, which are totally the results of our own past and present कर्म karmas, and they are ever subject to change. If that is so, then what is the difference between The आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I” in my उपाधि upādhi and that in ईश्वर उपाधि īśvar upādhi?

The answer is that there is absolutely no difference. Just as the nature of water in a drop of a wave in the ocean is no different from that of all water in the entire ocean, similarly, the nature of आत्मा ātmā – The Self I in a जीव उपाधि jīva upādhi is no different from that of आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I” in ईश्वर उपाधि īśvar upādhi. That is the content of the Upanishad message:

यदेव इह, तत् अमुत्र, यत् अमुत्र, तदनु इह ।

yadeva iha, tat amutra, yat amutra, tadanu iha ।

From what has been said above, it is clear that the true, unchanging, and unchangeable nature of oneself, The आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I”, is ब्रह्मन् brahman – is परमेश्वर parmeśvar itself. That being so, the Upanishad adds:

मृत्योः, स मृत्युं आप्नोति, य इह, नाना इव पश्यति ॥

mṛtyoḥ, sa mṛtyuṁ āpnoti, ya iha, nānā iva paśyati ॥

य इह नाना इव पश्यति ya iha nānā iva paśyati

यः yah – Anyone, any person being deluded by अविद्या avidyā – Self-ignorance, and भेद बुद्धि bheda buddhi – notions of division arising from differences that are natural to उपाधिस upādhis – body-vehicles

पश्यति paśyati – anyone, being so deluded, who sees

इह iha – here, in this ONE ब्रह्मन् brahman – in this ONE आत्मा ātmā – in this ONE परमेश्वर parmeśvar – which is in every उपाधि upādhi

Hindu Temple of Ottawa-Carleton Inc.
4835 Bank Street, Ottawa, Ontario K1X 1G6

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

नाना इव nānā iva – as though there is a difference, which means anyone who entertains the mistaken notion that The आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I” in me is different from That in another person because of differences in उपाधि upādhi – body-vehicles, and also that The आत्मा ātmā – The Self “I” in any person, in any being, is different from ब्रह्मन् brahman – The परमेश्वर parmeśvar

सः saḥ – that person,

मृत्योः मृत्युं आप्नोति mṛtyoḥ mṛtyuṁ āpnoti – gets death after death, which means he becomes subject to repeated birth and death.

Therefore, one must cultivate a विवेक बुद्धि vivek buddhi to be able to see things as they really are and discard mistaken notions born of Self-ignorance and भेद बुद्धि bheda buddhi – notions of unreal divisions, and gain the ability to see oneself as: “The true nature of myself and indeed every being in this creation, is indeed ब्रह्मन् brahman – ईशावास्यं इदं सर्वं īśāvāsyam idaṁ sarvaṁ.” That is the Message of the statement:

मृत्योः, स मृत्युं आप्नोति – य इह नाना इव पश्यति
mṛtyoḥ, sa mṛtyuṁ āpnoti – ya iha nānā iva paśyati

The same message is reinforced again in the next verse which says:

मनसा एव, इदं आप्तव्यं, न इह, नानास्ति किञ्चन ।
manasā eva, idaṁ āptavyaṁ, na iha, nānāsti kiñcana । मृत्योः, स मृत्युं गच्छति, य इह, नाना इव पश्यति ॥
mṛtyoḥ, sa mṛtyuṁ gacchati, ya iha, nānā iva paśyati ॥

4 - 11

Clear, direct and immediate recognition of the identity of जीव jīva and ब्रह्मन् brahman takes place only in one’s बुद्धि buddhi. For such a recognition to take place, one requires a mind which is pure, clean and ready for such knowledge, because the बुद्धि buddhi acts only on the knowledge provided by the sense organs through the mind. Therefore, the Upanishad says:

मनसा एव इदं आप्तव्यं manasā eva idaṁ āptavyaṁ
मनसा एव manasā eva – Only through a qualified mind
इदं idaṁ – this

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

जीव ब्रह्म एकत्व विज्ञानं jīva brahma ekatva vijñānam – this knowledge of one's identity with ब्रह्मन् brahman,

आप्तव्यं āptavyam– can be obtained, can be grasped. आप्तव्यं āptavyam means आप्तुं योग्यं āptum yogyam – a mind fit for grasping आत्मज्ञानं ātma jñānam – Self Knowledge

Now, what kind of mind is fit for grasping आत्मज्ञानं ātma jñānam – Self Knowledge? Only a mind which is totally in control of one's sense organs, and which is purified through the discipline of कर्म योग karma yoga, ध्यान योग dhyāna yoga, भक्ति योग bhakti yoga and cultivated Upanishad Knowledge, is fit for grasping आत्म ज्ञानं ātma jñānam – Self-knowledge

Through the input of such a mind, when one's बुद्धि buddhi recognizes one's identity with ब्रह्मन् brahman, then what happens? Self-ignorance naturally disappears, which means one naturally recognizes

न इह नाना अस्ति किञ्चन na iha nānā asti kiñcina

इह iha – in ब्रह्मन् brahman

किञ्चन नाना न अस्ति kiñcina nānā na asti – even minute division of any kind does not exist, which means, ब्रह्मन् brahman, is पूर्ण pūrṇam. While the उपाधिस upādhis, the नाम रूपस nāma rūpas – the names and forms are infinite in number, ब्रह्मन् brahman is ONE, whole and all-inclusive, with no division what so ever. On the other hand,

मृत्योः, स मृत्युं गच्छति य इह, नाना इव पश्यति ।

mṛtyoḥ, sa mṛtyum gacchati ya iha, nānā iva paśyati ।

यः यः yaḥ yaḥ – any person

इह नाना इव पश्यति iha nānā iva paśyati – who sees as though there is division in ब्रह्मन् brahman – even by super imposing some thing on ब्रह्मन् brahman

सः sah – that person

मृत्योः मृत्युं गच्छति (एव) mṛtyoḥ mṛtyum gacchati (eva) – does (indeed) go from death to death, meaning that person becomes subject to repeated birth and death; that person cannot escape the cycle of birth and death. So says, the Upanishad

Hindu Temple of Ottawa-Carleton Inc.
4835 Bank Street, Ottawa, Ontario K1X 1G6

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

All our Upanishads call attention to the knowledge of एकत्वं ekatvaṁ– ONENESS and पूर्णत्वं pūrṇatvaṁ – All-inclusive Totality of ब्रह्मन् brahman. We are familiar with the Upanishad declaration: पूर्णमदः पूर्णमिदं pūrṇamadaḥ pūrṇamidaṁ. We may also recall here the words of Taittiriya Upanishad:

एतस्मिन् उदरं अन्तरं कुरुते, अथ तस्य भयं भवति ॥

etasmin udaraṁ antaraṁ kurute, atha tasya bhayaṁ bhavati ॥

When a person entertains the notion of separateness from ब्रह्मन् brahman, even to a minute extent, then ब्रह्मन् brahman becomes the Source, the cause, and the Means of fear. The fear here is मृत्यु भयं mṛtyu bhayaṁ – the fear of change, the fear of death.

Again, we may recall the words of ईशावास्य īśāvāsya Upanishad:

अविध्यया मृत्युं तीर्त्वा विध्यया अमृतं अश्नुते ॥

avidhyayā mṛtyuṁ tīrtvā vidhyayā amṛtaṁ aśnute ॥

Through the cultivation of the discipline and depth of objective knowledge, one gains the ability to understand the ever-changing nature of the material world, and through the simultaneous cultivation of the discipline and depth of Upanishad knowledge, one gains the ability to realize that all the changes taking place in the material world are only different manifestations of That ONE unchanging, ever-existent, all-inclusive ब्रह्मन् brahman.

Such simultaneous cultivation of totality of knowledge, ब्रह्मज्ञानं brahma jñānaṁ, is the function of one's विवेक बुद्धि viveka buddhi – which ultimately makes a person बुद्धिमान् buddhimān – a wise person, fit for gaining मोक्ष mokṣa – Total Fulfillment in Life. For gaining such विवेक बुद्धि viveka buddhi, a daily life of सत्यं satyaṁ and धर्म dharmaṁ, rooted in ईश्वर ध्यानं īśvara dhyānaṁ – God-Consciousness, is necessary. It is such a daily life that makes one's mind fit for the successful pursuit of आत्मज्ञानं ātma jñānaṁ – Self-knowledge.

So is the message of our Upanishads. We will continue next time, when we will be completing this section of the Upanishad.
