इति अष्टमोऽनुवाकः

iti aṣṭamo'nuvākaḥ

In these two lessons, the Upanishad presents two simple-looking Japa mantras for meditation on ब्रह्मन् brahman, The परमेश्वर parameśvar. The purpose of meditation is to gain steady-mindedness, which means gaining ability of the mind to concentrate on ब्रह्मन् brahman initially, and subsequently to concentrate one's mind and बुद्धि buddhi on an enquiry on ब्रह्मन् brahman.

Japa mantras are meant for silent repetitions. By such repetition, by steadily engaging the mind and बुद्धि buddhi on the meaning of the mantras as a pointer to ब्रह्मन् brahman, a natural state of God-consciousness at all times is ultimately reached by the mind and बुद्धि buddhi. Meditation on ब्रह्मन् brahman does not by itself bring enlightenment on ब्रह्मन् brahman. Enlightenment comes only on subsequent enquiry – विचार vicār on ब्रह्मन् brahman by the three-fold process of श्रवणं śravaṇam̐, मननं mananam̐, and निदिध्यासनं nididhyaasanam̐.

◇ श्रवणं śravaṇam̐ is listening and understanding the words of the Upanishads

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

- ◇ मननं mananam is gaining clarity of the knowledge communicated by the Upanishads through personal reflection, repeated analysis and confirmation, and complete elimination of all doubts, and
- ◇ निदिध्यासनं nididhyaasanam is absorption of the clear and confirmed knowledge through daily practice, in thought, word and deed.

Only through such enquiry can one gain ब्रह्मज्ञानं brahma jñānam - knowledge about ब्रह्मन् brahman, the परमेश्वर parameśvar. Meditation on ब्रह्मन् brahman through जप japa mantras is only preparation of one's mind and बुद्धि buddhi for such enquiry.

Meditation on ब्रह्मन् brahman is always as प्रत्यक्ष ब्रह्मन् pratyakṣa brahman, which means meditation on the glory of परमेश्वर parameśvar as manifested in this creation. Since the entire creation is nothing but the glory of परमेश्वर parameśvar, any glorious vision of any part of this creation is appropriate material to serve as a locus of meditation, Alter for meditation, to engage the mind and बुद्धि buddhi directed towards ब्रह्मन् brahman.

The two Japa mantras presented in today's lessons are just expressions of two glorious visions of this creation, each serving as a means for engaging the mind and बुद्धि buddhi directed towards ब्रह्मन् brahman - The परमेश्वर parameśvar, already in oneself. These mantras are particularly appropriate for students pursuing Vedic knowledge in their early stages of education and training, because these mantras use familiar examples to cultivate ईश्वर ध्यानं īśvara dhyānam, ईश्वर ईक्षणं īśvara īkṣaṇam and ईश्वर आराधनं īśvara ārādhanam in one's mind. As we have seen already,

- ◇ ईश्वर ध्यानं īśvara dhyānam is projection and propulsion of one's mind and बुद्धि buddhi towards परमेश्वर parameśvar
- ◇ ईश्वर ईक्षणं īśvara īkṣaṇam is recognition of परमेश्वर parameśvar in one's chosen Alter of meditation
- ◇ ईश्वर आराधनं īśvara ārādhanam is some physical act of worship of परमेश्वर parameśvar, already recognized in one's Alter of meditation, totally identifying oneself with That परमेश्वर parameśvar, both intellectually and emotionally. ईश्वर जप japa is a form of ईश्वर आराधनं īśvara ārādhanam.

Hindu Temple of Ottawa-Carleton Inc.

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

With such projection, recognition and identification, the mind and बुद्धि buddhi become ready for the next stage in one's Vedic education, namely, an enquiry on the nature of जीव jīva, जगत् jagat and ईश्वर īśvar, which enquiry ultimately leads to ब्रह्मज्ञानं brahma jñānaṁ – knowledge about ब्रह्मन् brahman.

Now let us try to understand the content of the two जप japa mantras presented here. To start with, the जप japa mantra is पाङ्कतम् वा इदं सर्वम् pāṅktam vā idaṁ sarvam – That is the जप japa, which means

पाङ्कतम् pāṅktam – the group of five, is indeed a manifestation of ब्रह्मन् brahman, which is in everything, everywhere in this creation. All these groups of five, which exist in this creation, are indeed direct manifestations of ब्रह्मन् brahman, the परमेश्वर parameśvar. Whatever one recognizes in this manifested creation, as a glory of परमेश्वर parameśvar, is a direct manifestation of परमेश्वर parameśvar itself. The word पाङ्कतम् pāṅktam – meaning the group of five, is a familiar word for all the Vedic students. Early in one's education, the Vedic student learns to act as a priest in the performance of a variety of household यज्ञs yajñas or Havans, all of which go by the common name पाङ्कतम् pāṅktam, because each such Havan is an integration of five necessary components, namely

- the performer of the Havan
- the spouse of the performer
- their children
- the material ingredients involved in the Havan and
- the इष्ट देवता iṣṭa devatā invoked in अग्नि agni – the fire, in the Havan kund

The overriding purpose of a पाङ्कतम् pāṅktam – a household Havan, is to cultivate God-consciousness or ईश्वर आराधन बुद्धि īśvara ārādhana buddhi in the entire family. If one chooses to meditate on ब्रह्मन् brahman, The परमेश्वर parameśvar in terms of पाङ्कतम् pāṅktam – the concept of group of five, depending on the way one looks at this entire creation, one finds that there are indeed infinite number of groups of five in this creation, which remind one of the glory of परमेश्वर parameśvar. Let me use the first person I, just for illustration.

I may look upon this entire creation simply as a summation of myself and everything else other than myself, as the seer and the seen, as the subject (myself) and the objects (everything else). Looking at the objects around me, I see many groups of five which remind me of the glory of परमेश्वर parameśvar. For example,

पृथिव्यन्तरिक्षं द्यौर्दिशोऽवान्तर दिशाः ।

ṛthivyantarikṣaṁ dyaurdiśo'vāntara diśāḥ ।

अग्नि - वायुरादित्य - इन्द्रमा नक्षत्राणि ।

agni - vāyurāditya - ścandramā nakṣatrāṇi ।

आप ओषधयो वनस्पतय आकाश आत्मा ।

āpa oṣadhayo vanaspataya ākāśa ātmā ।

इत्यधिभूतम् ।

ityadhibhūtam ।

पृथिवी ṛthivī - The earth

अन्तरिक्षं antarikṣaṁ - the world between the earth and the heavenly bodies

द्यौः dyauḥ - the planets in the sky

दिशाः - the four directions, which means all that exists in all the four directions

अवान्तर दिशाः avāntara diśāḥ - all that exist in all the in-between directions

All the above five constitute one पाङ्क्तम् pāṅktam - a group of five, called लोक पाङ्क्तम् loka pāṅktam - the five fold aspects of the physical worlds, which is a glory of परमेश्वर parameśvar. Again,

अग्नि agni - meaning अग्नि देवता agni devatā

वायुः vāyuh meaning वायु देवता vāyu devatā

आदित्यः ādityaḥ meaning सूर्य देवता sūrya devatā

चन्द्रमा candrama meaning चन्द्र देवता candra devatā

नक्षत्राणि nakṣatrāṇi meaning नक्षत्र देवताs nakṣatra devatās or

स्वप्रकाश देवताs svaprakāśa devatās, all the self-luminous stars as देवताs devatās

All the above constitute another पाङ्क्तम् pāṅktam - group of five, called देवता पाङ्क्तम् devatā pāṅktam - the five fold aspects of देवताs devatās, the presiding deities of natural laws, which is a glory of परमेश्वर parameśvar. Again,

आपः āpaḥ - Water

ओषधयः oṣadhayaḥ - the herbal plants

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

वनस्पतयः vanaspatayah – the forests

आकाश ākāśa – the space and all that exist in space, and

आत्मा ātmā meaning the चिराट आत्मा varāṭa ātmā – the cosmic entity which includes and sustains all the above. This is another पाङ्क्तम् pāṅktam – group of five, which is a glory of परमेश्वर parameśvar.

इत्यधिभूतम् ityadhibhūtam – All the above three sets of groups of five are together called अधिभूतम् adhibhūtam – glory of परमेश्वर parameśvar, manifested as this entire creation.

अथ अध्यात्मम् atha adhyātmam – Now let me look at myself. Looking at myself also, I see several पाङ्क्तम् pāṅktam – groups of five in myself. For example,

प्राणो, व्यानोऽपान उदान समानः ।

prāṇo, vyāno'pāna udāna samānaḥ ।

चक्षुः श्रोत्रं मनो वाक्त्वक् ।

cakṣuḥ śrotraṁ mano vāktvak ।

चर्म माँ सँ स्नावास्थि मज्जा । carma māṁ saṁ snāvāsthi majjā ।

First there are the five physiological functions of my body, namely

प्राणः prāṇaḥ – respiration

व्यानः vyānaḥ – blood circulation

अपानः apānaḥ – natural rejection of waste matter

उदानः udānaḥ – natural reactions and

समानः samānaḥ – natural assimilation or digestion

All the above five physiological functions together constitute a पाङ्क्तम् pāṅktam – group of five, called वायु पाङ्क्तम् vāyu pāṅktam – group of five involving प्राण prāṇa – the vital air, which is a glory of परमेश्वर parameśvar.

Again, there are the five-fold organs of perception and action, namely,

चक्षुः cakṣuḥ – the eyes, the power of sight

श्रोत्रं śrotraṁ – the ears, the power of hearing

मनः manaḥ – the mind, the power of thinking

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

वाक् vāk – the organ of speech, the power of speech, and त्वक् tvak – the skin, the power of touch.

These five-fold organs of perception and action together constitute a पाङ्क्तम् pāṅktam – group of five, called इन्द्रिय पाङ्क्तम् indriya pāṅktam – group of five involving powerful organs, which is again a glory of परमेश्वर parameśvar.

Again, there are the five-fold materials of which my body is made up of, namely

चर्म carma – the skin

माँ सँ mām sam – the flesh

स्नाया snāvā – the muscle

अस्थि asthi – the bone

मज्जा majjā – the marrow

These five-fold bodily materials constitute a पाङ्क्तम् pāṅktam – group of five, called धातु पाङ्क्तम् dhātu pāṅktam – group of five involving bodily materials, which is a glory of परमेश्वर parameśvar. Thus

एतदधि विधाय ऋषिरवोचत् ।

etadadhi vidhāya ṛṣiravovacat ।

पाङ्क्तं वा इदं सर्वम् ।

pāṅktaṁ vā idaṁ sarvam ।

पाङ्क्तेनैव पाङ्क्तं स्पृणोतीति ॥ (हरिः : ॐ)

pāṅktenaiva pāṅktaṁ spr̥ṇotīti ॥ (hariḥ om)

एतत् अधि विधाय etat adhi vidhāya – Thinking about, or reflecting on the extraordinary nature of all the above groups of five

ऋषिः अवोचत् ṛṣi avovacat – The Rishi declared. The Rishi who had the clear vision of the nature of all existence, declared, which simply means, the Veda declares, what?

पाङ्क्तम् वा इदं सर्वम् pāṅktam vā idam sarvam – All the above groups of five, both individually and collectively, are indeed direct manifestations of ब्रह्मन् brahman,

The परमेश्वर parameśvar, which is in everything, everywhere in this entire creation. Not only that,

पाङ्क्तेन एव पाङ्क्तम् स्पृणोति pāṅktena eva pāṅktam spr̥ṇoti - There are two distinct messages here, Please listen

पाङ्क्तेन एव पाङ्क्तं स्पृणोति pāṅktena eva pāṅktam spr̥ṇoti - Every group of five (पाङ्क्तम् pāṅktam) is sustained and fulfilled (स्पृणोति spr̥ṇoti) only by some other group of five, which means no group of five is really independent. Again, पाङ्क्तं एव पाङ्क्तम् स्पृणोति pāṅktam eva pāṅktam spr̥ṇoti - That ब्रह्मन् brahman, the परमेश्वर paramēśvar, indicated by ॐ कार शब्द om kāra śabda, who sustains and fulfills any पाङ्क्तम् pāṅktam- any group of five, that ब्रह्मन् br ahman alone sustains and fulfills every पाङ्क्तम् pāṅktam- every group of five, which means That ब्रह्मन् brahman, That परमेश्वर paramēśvar alone is independent.

That ब्रह्मन् brahman - The परमेश्वर paramēśvar, while being totally independent of this entire creation, is in all that exist in this creation, sustaining and fulfilling all of them as they are.

That is the realization that one gains by this form of meditation. As one progresses in this form of meditation, the जप japa mantras now become

पाङ्क्तम् वा इदं सर्वम् ।

pāṅktam vā idaṁ sarvam ।

पाङ्क्तेनैव पाङ्क्तं स्पृणोति - (हरिः ॐ)

pāṅktenaiva pāṅktam spr̥ṇoti - (hariḥ om)

It was for the sake of convenience in meditation that I initially divided the entire creation into myself and everything else other than myself, as the seer and the seen.

As a result of this meditation, I realize now that in fact, there is indeed no such division in nature. The seer and the seen are in fact one and the same. I am non-separate from this creation, and this creation is non-separate from me, and this entire creation and all that exist in this entire creation, including myself, is indeed प्रत्यक्ष ब्रह्मन् pratyakṣa brahman - direct and immediate manifestation of that invisible ब्रह्मन् brahman. That thought, That realization progressively becomes the locus this meditation.

This form of meditation is of extraordinary significance. Whether this creation is looked upon in terms of groups of five, or any other number, and precisely what are included in the various groups chosen for meditation do not really matter for the purpose of this meditation. What really matters is the ability of one's mind and बुद्धि buddhi to elevate any familiar concept, or any ordinary thought, as the locus of meditation on ब्रह्मन्

brahman and make such meditation as the means for sustaining God consciousness and cultivating ईश्वर आराधन बुद्धि īśvara ārādhana buddhi in oneself, so that one can remain performing every कर्म karma as ईश्वर कर्म īśvara karma, as कर्म योग karma yoga in daily life. That is the real significance of this जप japa mantra.

The second जप japa mantra also has a similar significance. Now, let us see the words in the second जप japa mantra

ओमिति ब्रह्म । ओमितीदं सर्वम् ।

omiti brahma | omitīdaṁ sarvam |

omiti brāhmaṇaḥ pravakṣyannāha brahmopāpnavānīti

ब्रह्मैवोपाप्नोति ॥ हरिः ॐ

brahmaivopāpnoti || hariḥ om

For a Vedic student, ॐ om is the most familiar of all words. Living in the गुरुकुल gurukul, the student starts the day with ॐ om, ends the day with ॐ om, and in between, he chants ॐ om reverentially so many times in the course of his education and training that, even without much enquiry, he intuitively recognizes that ॐ om is an extraordinary word, it is प्रणव praṇava mantra, it is the word of the glory of परमेश्वर parameśvar, and being so, ॐ om is the easiest vehicle through which one gets in touch with परमेश्वर parameśvar, and ॐ om is the natural word through

Hindu Temple of Ottawa-Carleton Inc.
4835 Bank Street, Ottawa, Ontario K1X 1G6

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

which one can meditate on ब्रह्मन् brahman, The परमेश्वर parameśvar. Hence, this meditation on ब्रह्मन् brahman is based on the word ॐ om. Using the familiar word ॐ om, one meditates upon ब्रह्मन् brahman, one engages one's mind and बुद्धि buddhi in the thoughts on ब्रह्मन् brahman as follows:

ओं इति ब्रह्म om iti brahma - the word ॐ om is ब्रह्मन् brahman. ॐ om is the word and ब्रह्मन् brahman is its meaning. Just as a word and its meaning are inseparable, ॐ om and ब्रह्मन् brahman are inseparable. What is ब्रह्मन् brahman, I do not know yet. At this stage of my awareness, even its dictionary meaning is good enough for meditation. The root ब्रह्म brahma has two meanings: Limitless and all-inclusive is one meaning. That which sustains everything is another meaning. Therefore, ब्रह्मन् brahman is that which is limitless and all-inclusive, and also which sustains everything in this creation. So is ॐ om. Therefore,

ॐ इति इदं सर्वम् om iti idam sarvam - ॐ om The ब्रह्मन् brahman is all this, all this entire creation. ॐ om The ब्रह्मन् brahman sustains everything in this creation, including the creation itself, and that means ईशावास्यं इदं सर्वम् īśāvāsyam idam sarvam.

All this, this entire creation is ॐ om, which is indeed शब्द रूप प्रत्यक्ष ब्रह्मन् śabda rūpa pratyakṣa brahman - the direct and immediate manifestation of ब्रह्मन् brahman in the perceptible form of sound ॐ om. Consequently, ॐ इति इदं सर्वम् om iti idam sarvam is the जप japa mantra, the mantra for meditation on ब्रह्मन् brahman. Having recognized the जप japa mantra, having fixed the जप japa mantra firmly in mind, the mind is then held steadily in this thought of ब्रह्मन् brahman by a स्तुति stuti of ॐ शब्द om śabda - the word ॐ om, the sound ॐ om, by remembering and praising the glory of ॐ om mantra.

The Vedic student remembers and recalls the glory of ॐ om mantra in terms which are familiar and inspiring to him. Silently meditating on ॐ om mantra as जप japa, the Vedic student recalls in his mind reverentially, the extraordinary part played by the ॐ om mantra in यज्ञs yajñas, in Havans, conducted for the welfare of the community as a whole. Such Havans are usually presided over by senior priests who have advanced Vedic knowledge and training. The Vedic students, still in their early stages of education, do not conduct such यज्ञs yajñas, but they are always present in such यज्ञs yajñas as observers. What do they observe? This is what they observe:

Hindu Temple of Ottawa-Carleton Inc.

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

ओमित्येत - दनुकृति ह स्म वा, अप्योश्रावयेत्यश्रावयन्ति omityeta - danukṛti ha sma vā, apyośrāvayetyāśrāvayanti

ॐ इति एतत् अनुकृतिः, ह स्म वा om iti etat anukṛtiḥ, ha sma vā

ह स्म वा ha sma vā is a manner of speaking expression, which simply means "It is well-known". The meditator doing the ॐ om mantra Japa now recalls something that is already well known. What is that?

ॐ इति एतत् अनुकृतिः om iti etat anukṛtiḥ - ॐ om is the word of approval of the chief priest in such यज्ञs yajñas. These यज्ञs yajñas involve four different types of priests, acting together in a prescribed manner. There is one chief priest, who is assisted by three small groups of priests, one each for Rig Veda, Sam Veda and Yajur Veda, who actually perform the rituals involved in the यज्ञ yajña such as the appropriate Vedic chantings, oblations, etc.

The Rig Veda priests are called Hotrs, the Sama Veda priests are called Udgatrs, and the Yajur Veda priests are called Advaryus. The chief priest is called ब्रह्मा brahma.

The chief priest, The ब्रह्मा brahma, does not perform any ritual by himself, but he initiates, guides, and allows the rituals to be performed by the other priests, by simply using the word ॐ om effectively. For example, if the performing priest wants to do something, he looks up to the chief priest for approval, and the chief priest gives approval by simply saying the word ॐ om. Thus, ॐ इति एतत् अनुकृतिः om iti etat anukṛtiḥ - OM is the word of approval of the chief priest with reference to every action in the proper performance of such यज्ञs yajñas.

अप्योश्रावयेत्याश्रावयन्ति apyośrāvayetyāśrāvayanti

अपि, ओ श्रावय, इति आश्रावयन्ति api, o śraavaya, iti āśraavayanti

अपि api - also, as the thoughts continue on the glory of ॐ om mantra, the meditator recalls the words ओ श्रावय o śraavaya, meaning ओं श्रावय om śraavaya. ओं श्रावय om śraavaya is a command word in the यज्ञs yajñas, used by the chief priest.

Hindu Temple of Ottawa-Carleton Inc.
4835 Bank Street, Ottawa, Ontario K1X 1G6

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

ओं श्रावय om śraavaya means "Call the Devatas, get in touch with the Devatas and bring the Devatas to the यज्ञ भूमि yajña bhūmi" so says the chief priest - the ब्रह्मा brahmā priest to the other priests.

इति आश्रावयन्ति iti āśraavayanti - With this command word from the chief priest, the other participating priests, आश्रावयन्ति āśraavayanti - they are made to contact, invite, and bring the Devatas to the यज्ञ भूमि yajña bhūmi to receive the oblations which are about to be offered.

How can the priests bring the Devatas, which means, the power behind the Devatas, to the यज्ञ भूमि yajña bhūmi ? This is possible only by the purity and discipline of the priests involved, combined with the spiritual power of the Veda mantras, which means, by the proper, effective and reverential chanting of the appropriate mantras at the appropriate time, the Devatas are made to respond positively to the call of the qualified priests. How does that happen? As seen by the Vedic student, as an observer in these यज्ञ yajñas, this is what happens.

As soon as the chief priest issues the command word ओ श्रावय o śraavaya, ओमिति सामानि गायन्ति omiti sāmāni gāyanti - the Sama Veda priests, the Udgatrs contact the Devatas by singing their most penetrating Sama Veda mantras, starting with ॐ om, then

ओँ शोमिति शस्त्राणि शँ शन्ति om śomiti śastrāṇi śamśanti - the Hotrs, the Rig Veda priests recite (शँ सन्ति śamśanti - the Rig Veda invocation mantras शस्त्राणि śastrāṇi) in praise of the Devatas, with their entire body, mind and intellect tuned to the thought of ब्रह्मन् brahman. These mantras also start with ॐ om (the word शोम् śom indicates that these mantras are not set to music. They are simply स्तुति stuti mantras, mantras in praise of the Devatas). Then

ओमित्यध्वयुः प्रतिगरं प्रतिगृणाति omityadhvayuh pratigaram pratigṛṇāti - supporting, strengthening and encouraging the Rig Veda priests in their invocations, and helping them to keep their mind firmly held in the thought of ब्रह्मन् brahman, the Advarus, the Yajur Veda priests enthuse the Rig Veda priests by shooting forth now and then, the appropriate प्रतिगर pratigara mantras - the reinforcing mantras, which again start with ॐ om.

Hindu Temple of Ottawa-Carleton Inc.

ब्रह्मविद्या Brahma Vidya

By the power of the mantras chanted by the qualified priests, the Devatas do respond. They assemble at the यज्ञ भूमि yajña bhūmi. The whole atmosphere is now charged with spiritual power, and everybody can feel it in one's own self. At this point ॐ इति ब्रह्मा प्रसौति om iti brahmā prasauti - the ब्रह्मा brahmā priest - the chief priest says ॐ om to authorize the Yajur Veda priests - the Advaryues, to start offering oblations to the Devatas, and complete the यज्ञ yajña in the prescribed manner, accomplishing the purpose of the यज्ञ yajña.

प्रसौति prasauti means प्रसव कर्म करोति prasava karma karoti. The chief priest gives birth to a new act of ritual. He approves what has been done and asks the other priests to go ahead with the next step in the ritual involved.

Thus, the senior priests who have advanced knowledge of the Veda mantras invoke that ॐ om mantra again and again, to assure the success of the यज्ञ yajña throughout its progress, and the power and glory of ॐ om is so impressive that it engages the mind of the meditator in the thought of ॐ om during his जप japa.

ओमित्यग्निहोत्रमनुजानाति omityagnihotramanujānāti

ॐ इति अग्निहोत्रं अनुजानाति om iti agnihotram anujānāti - अग्निहोत्रं agnihotram is a general name for any यज्ञ कर्म yajña karma - any Havan कर्म karma involving fire as अग्नि देवता agni devatā. For performing any such यज्ञ कर्म yajña karma, one must always get the approval (अनुज्ञा anujñā) from the officiating priest who must make sure that the prerequisites for the यज्ञ yajña are totally satisfied.

ॐ इति अनुजानाति om ita anujānāti - When the priest gives his approval, he simply says ॐ om, which again indicates that ॐ om is the word of approval for doing any यज्ञ कर्म yajña karma.

ओमिति ब्राह्मणः प्रवक्ष्यन्नाह ब्रह्मोपाप्नवानीति omiti brāhmaṇaḥ pravakṣyannāha brahmopāpnvānīti - A ब्राह्मण brāhmaṇ is any person who is mature enough to recognize that gaining ब्रह्मज्ञानं brahma jñānaṁ is the overriding purpose of life. When such a ब्राह्मण brāhmaṇ undertakes studies on ब्रह्मविद्या brahma vidyā (ब्रह्म उपाप्नवानी इति प्रवक्ष्यन् brahma upāpnvāni iti pravakṣyan), he always starts his studies saying the word ॐ om (ॐ इति आह om iti aah), which shows again that ॐ om is not only ब्रह्मन् brahman, It is also the word of auspiciousness (मङ्गल वचनं maṅgala vacanam) for gaining the knowledge revealed by the ॐ om mantra, because

ब्रह्मैवोपाप्नोति brahmaivopāpnoti - that ब्रह्म एव उपाप्नोति brahma eva upāpnota that ब्राह्मण brahmaṇa ultimately does succeed in gaining ब्रह्मज्ञानं brahma jñānam, which means, starting with the auspicious word ॐ om, the ultimate success of the endeavor is assured.

Thus ॐ om is not just an inert word. It is an extraordinary word full of life and power. It is an auspicious word. It is the word of the glory of परमेश्वर parameśvar. Starting with ॐ om the ultimate success of any endeavor is certain. Therefore, with faith and confidence, let me meditate upon ॐ om mantra as ब्रह्मन् brahman, as परमेश्वर parameśvar, dwelling on the thoughts of ॐ om as ओमितीदं सर्वम् omitīdaṁ sarvam - ॐ इति इदं सर्वम् om iti idaṁ sarvam ॥

That is indeed the जप japa mantra in this meditation. We will take up the next lesson next time.
